ABOUT THE ARTIST

Rachel Garrard (Devon, England, 1984) is a New York-based artist who studied at Central Saint Martins (2009). While a student, Garrard was quick to gain widespread attention for works such as Circuition and Seven Transmutations; performance-based refracted-videos interwoven with blurred fractals and iconography. Dimensional awe is frequently depicted in her pictures, and she often includes glimpses into other worlds through keyholes or the veins in her depicted networks. Garrard has shown her original artwork at Participant Inc., New York; Eyebeam Art and Technology Center, New York; Jack Hanley Gallery, New York.
