ABOUT THE ARTIST

Éva Magyarósi (Veszprém, 1981) is a Budapest-based multimedia artist who produces sculptures, photographs, drawings, short stories, and video art. The latter is her most noteworthy medium, fusing her wide arsenal of production techniques. Her artworks can often be seen as visual diaries blending fictitious concepts with her personal past. The effect is deeply intimate and valuable in its commentary on time and memory. Magyarósi's select solo exhibitions include Invisible drawings, Kunsthalle, Budapest (2012); Game for cruel girls, Erika Deak Gallery, Budapest (2009); Cirko-Gejzír, Budapest (2003).
